Description

A huge cortijo which has been partly reformed on a large tiered plot a few minutes drive from Albox in Almeria.

The house has good access and a large deposit tank.

The main part of the house has been reformed whilst the upstairs is still in the original condition. There are further rooms to the rear of the house which are currently used as storage.

There is a large porch area to the front of the house.

THe property enjoys fine views along the valley.
